1. Programme Structure

The structure and content of the programme is wholly appropriate. The aims and learning outcomes of the programme and its component parts are in line with History benchmarking standards and are very clearly articulated to students. The School adheres very closely to Quality Assurance criteria. The structure of the PGT programme ensures a clear progression from undergraduate to postgraduate level work.

2. Academic Standards

Academic standards are of a very high order and are fully in accordance with the framework for HE/PGT qualifications and conform fully to History benchmarking standards. Student achievement on the programmes is consistently good to excellent.

3. The Assessment Process

The examination processes used by the School for its PGT programmes is wholly appropriate and consistent with practice in other comparable institutions. Marking is thorough, entirely fair, utterly transparent and helpful to students.

4. Year-on-Year Comments

I made no recommendations for modification or improvements last year and I am entirely satisfied that this programme operates smoothly and successfully. I see no need for any modification.

5. Preparation / Induction Activity (for new External Examiners only)

N/A

6. Noteworthy Practice and Enhancement

Exam boards are conducted meticulously fairly and transparently and are a great credit to the examinations team.
