When you arrive at the University Hospital of Wales, you will need to book in at the reception of our main X Ray Department. To find us please follow the next few steps:

- 1) Walk through the shopping concourse (shown in yellow), which is situated by the main entrance to the hospital. You can also access this area by the ambulance and taxi bay at the side of the hospital.
- 2) Go through the double doors next to the toilets and head up a short flight of stairs. The lifts are situated on the left hand side of the stairs.
- 3) Continue straight on along the main corridor. The X-ray department is clearly sign posted and will be on the right hand side, just opposite the hospital radio booth.
- 4) Once you have informed the receptionist that you have arrived, a member of our team will take you through to the Wales Research and Diagnostic PET Imaging centre
