

Accounting Forum

Special Issue on Contemporary Accounting Developments in China

CALL FOR PAPERS

In conjunction with the Global Chinese Accounting Association's (GCAA) 2nd Global Chinese Accounting Summit to be held in Nanjing, China on November 2-3, 2019, we are pleased to announce that we are guest editing a Special Issue on Contemporary Accounting Developments in China for Accounting Forum. This Special Issue aims to provide a high-quality outlet for presenting research outcomes from various contemporary accounting developments in China. The Special Issue will focus on the effects of recent social, economic and political reforms and technological advancements on accounting and auditing in China and their changing role in corporate management as well as social and economic development. We are particularly interested in papers that explore unique Chinese features of accounting and auditing and the causes and consequences of these features, although comparative studies are also welcome. We also are interested in papers about innovative practices and theories of accounting and auditing developed in China. The Special Issue is open to any theoretical paradigms and research approaches.

Please note that we will consider all submissions, including those not presented at the 2nd Global Chinese Accounting Summit.

Submission deadline: December 15, 2019.

Submission address: <https://www.editorialmanager.com/racc/>

Submission requirements: please follow the requirements of Accounting Forum.

Guest Editors

Professor Donghui Li, Global Chinese Accounting Association and Shenzhen University, China

Professor Grantley Taylor, Curtin University, Australia

Professor Jason Xiao, Cardiff University, UK and Associate Editor Accounting Forum

Accounting Forum

Accounting Forum is an SSCI journal with an Impact Factor of 2.304. It is graded 3 in the Association of Business Schools (ABS) Academic Journal Guide. The journal publishes authoritative yet accessible articles which advance our knowledge of theory and practice in all areas of accounting, business finance and related subjects. The journal both promotes greater understanding of the role of business in the global environment and provides a forum for the intellectual exchange of academic research in business fields, particularly in the accounting profession. Covering a range of topical issues in accounting, business finance and related fields, Accounting Forum's main areas of interest are: accounting theory; auditing; financial accounting; finance and accounting education; management accounting; small business; social and environmental accounting; and taxation. Of equal interest to practitioners, academics, and students, each issue of the journal includes peer-reviewed articles, notes and comments section. For more information about the journal, please visit its website: <https://www.tandfonline.com/toc/racc20/current>