Our campuses

Cathays Park
Just a few minutes’ walk from the city centre, the majority of our academic schools can be found on our Cathays Park Campus, amongst the impressive buildings, parks and tree-lined avenues of Cardiff’s Civic Centre.

Heath Park
Our Heath Park Campus is home to three academic schools offering programmes in medicine, dentistry and healthcare sciences. Co-located with the 1,000 bed University Hospital of Wales - the third largest teaching hospital in the UK - our students are immersed in a hospital environment from the beginning of their studies.

Established in 1883, Cardiff University has an international reputation for excellence in research and teaching, built on a history of service and achievement. Our membership of the 24-strong Russell Group of research-intensive universities solidifies our place as one of the UK’s leading academic institutions.

The university is divided into 24 academic schools, located across two campuses: Cathays Park and Heath Park.
