1. Programme Structure

This is appropriate

2. Academic Standards

The standards of the work I have seen are generally good and equivalent to other doctoral clinical psychology courses

3. The Assessment Process

The assessment process is fair and detailed feedback is given. The course are aware that I have reservations about the use of a hypothetical case study at doctoral level of training and are addressing this.

4. Year-on-Year Comments

Vivas are now timetabled for more appropriate time phases ie 90 minutes between these as the views of externals that these were too brief. This has been a welcome modification and enhances the robustness of the assessment

5. Preparation / Induction Activity (for new External Examiners only)

6. Noteworthy Practice and Enhancement

The depth of feedback given is commendable.

Additional comments

Accommodation arrangements for external examiners do need to be made by the institution. We are there to complete work on the institution's behalf and it is unacceptable that examiners themselves are faced with having to try to sort out their own arrangements. We were told was the case this year because of new institutional rules. This is the first time this has ever occurred in my experience and I have examined across numerous universities across the country. This led to a great deal of work negotiating rates and led to all examiners being in different hotels. This is not acceptable and was a source of considerable dissatisfaction.

7. Comments on the Examination of Master's Dissertations (External Examiners for postgraduate Master's Programmes only, see also 9.23-9.29 below)

SAMPLING OF TAUGHT MASTER'S DISSERTATIONS BY EXTERNAL EXAMINERS

External Examiners shall be expected to see prescribed numbers and ranges of Dissertations, but not to mark them, on the following basis:

At least 10% of Dissertations for a postgraduate taught Master's Programme, or a minimum of 10 (whichever is the higher figure) must be seen by the External Examiner(s). Where the total number is less than 10, all Dissertations must be seen by the External Examiner(s) #.

Dissertations seen by External Examiners should include examples from across the whole range of achievement (i.e. Pass with Distinction, Pass, Fail).

External Examiners will retain the right to see other Dissertations at random.

Where more than one External Examiner is appointed on a Programme, at least 10% of Dissertations, or a minimum of 10 (whichever is the higher figure), should be seen collectively by the External Examiners.
