

Treialon Cymru
Trials Cymru

Interested in research trials in Wales?

Treialon Cymru is an exciting initiative, led by Centre for Trials Research, that provides opportunities across the whole of Wales for people to engage with trials. It links with the three trials units in Wales (Centre for Trials Research, Cardiff University; Swansea Trials Unit, Swansea University; North Wales Organisation for Randomised Trials in Health, Bangor University), across Health and Care Research Wales infrastructure, and beyond.

Research Development
Programme

Aim: To increase the number of large-scale studies led from Wales in areas of high priority for our services.

Do you have ideas for research priorities in Wales?

Associate
Members
Programme

Aim: To support people working in health and social care in Wales to be linked to a Clinical Trials Unit (CTU) to develop their understanding of what a CTU is and does.

Would spending some time learning about the day to day running of trials and studies within the Centre and/or other Wales CTUs help you in your work? Our Associate Members Programme is open for applications.
