Which route into medicine is right for you and how long will it take?

A100

Want a year out or GCSEs not as high as you expected?

Apply to A100 post A-level

Great if you want a year out of academia, with the extra money you can earn plus interesting life experiences that can make you a better doctor

Don't have the right subjects at A-level?

Apply to A104 and do your MBBCh with a foundation year

A great way into Medicine for those who didn't know early on that they wanted to become a doctor

6 years (1 year for your foundation course + 5 years for your MBBCh)

A104

Want an additional degree in a specialist subject?

Spend just one year intercalating between Yr 3 & 4 or Yr 4 & 5 in one of our many approved degree programmes

A100/A104

Looking for something different for your UCAS 5th choice?

Didn't realise until recently that you wanted to become a doctor?

Get a 2:1 Hons in any recognised undergraduate degree then apply to A100 or A104

Great if you can't wait for student life to begin

Study a subject that you love - History/Business etc. - before starting a future in Medicine

Lower A-level grades considered

Bonus: You leave medical school with two degrees

A100 - 8 years (3 years for your first degree + 5 years for your MBBCh)

A104 - 9 years (3 years for your first degree + 6 years for your foundation year and MBBCh)
