1. Programme Structure

The structure of the programme is well thought out. It provides students with all the necessary skills to work as competent and creative therapists.

The programme team are competent and knowledgeable about the subject area.

2. Academic Standards

It meets all academic standards. Much of the work should be published as it is of interest to other therapists and academics.

The assessments are well balanced and give the students every opportunity to succeed. The assessments are creative and innovative.

4. Year-on-Year Comments

Only that the work is of such a high standard that it should be published.

5. Preparation / Induction Activity (for new External Examiners only)

6. Noteworthy Practice and Enhancement

- (1) The presentation of the case from practice. These are recorded and should be showcased to a wider audience.
- (2) The innovative assessments
- (3) The commitment of the team
- (4) Research based teaching.
- (5) The team recognises the importance of changing areas of practice.
- (6) The course is current and creative.

I am not sure whether it is my place to comment but it would be fantastic for the profession if this course became a pre-reg masters. It has all the elements of one.
